

Dear Jenny,

We had hoped that you wouldn't have to use this comfort kit we put together for you when school started this year, but if you're reading this, we're glad it was here for you when you needed it. You've grown up to be such a strong young woman, but we imagine that you must be a little nervous right now, and it's okay to feel that way. Just don't worry about your Mom and Dad, because we're fine. When we got your comfort kit together, remember we made one for ourselves too? So we're all taken care of and we're looking forward to seeing you soon. Just remember our family emergency plan and to look at the emergency contact card that we gave you, ok? We put in a book of word searches that we know you'd like and a deck of cards to share with your friends, so just try to relax and have fun, and know that we're thinking of you.

We love you so much and we'll see you soon!

Love,

Remember when we saw the musical "Hairspray" this summer and how much fun we had? And how we sang all the songs from the show on the way home? We all can't wait to see another show next summer!

Buster says hi!
